Bob,

I've attached that discharge plot in pdf format. Hopefully it will come through okay. You're right that the problem has to do with the file size. I ran a routine on it to reduce the file size, but it didn't succeed in making it very much smaller than it was. Maybe when you open it you can just let it sit for a couple minutes, and it will eventually show the plot.

I'm going to send you another email. It will have an Excel file contained in it. It's a big one. I had to break the whole time period down into 3 worksheets. If it fails to come through okay, just let me know, and I'll send it again as just one worksheet at a time in 3 separate emails.

Here goes...

Bob,

I saw that the Excel file was just too large,
so I'm sending one worksheet at a time.
